

FAST DVD COPY

The First DVD Video Copy Software for Mac OS X

Make your SuperDrive Scream.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New York, March 15, 2004 --- Velan Software announces today the release version 1.0 of FAST DVD COPY, the first software built for Mac OS X that allows users to make copies of DVD videos with just one click, combining ease of use and professional quality results. The DVD copy can be played on almost any DVD player: a home or office DVD player plugged to a TV or a DVD drive on a computer (Mac or PC). FAST DVD COPY allows you to burn DVD videos onto blank DVD media using a SuperDrive.

"I was really frustrated that one-click DVD copy software was not available for Mac OS X like it is for Windows. I am highly impressed by the quality of FAST DVD COPY's duplication process: I couldn't tell the difference between the copied DVD video and the original. Velan's FAST DVD COPY will really make your SuperDrive scream for roughly the same price as buying five DVD video blockbusters." said Dave Chang, a beta tester of the software.

FAST DVD COPY Features

- Copies almost all DVD videos
- Copies an entire double-sided DVD video to one single-sided DVD-R disc
